The Oxford African American Studies Center offers students the most comprehensive collection of scholarship available online to focus on the lives and events which have shaped African American and African history and culture.

FEATURES

- Over 10,000 pages of award-winning scholarship taken from over 20 acclaimed Oxford titles
- 4,500 biographies offer complete and authoritative coverage of every important African American - writers, artists, thinkers, politicians and social activists - from early Americans to Barack Obama
- 9,000 articles covering persons, events, movements and more
- Over 2,000 primary source documents: images, interviews, maps, and charts
- General timelines of African American history alongside thematic timelines on sports, business and labor, women's history, and more
- Updated three times a year with new content!

ALSO AVAILABLE

The Oxford African American Studies Center includes content from the recently published African American National Biography. With over 4,000 entries, this landmark scholarly achievement covers almost five centuries, from the arrival of Esteban in 1528 to notable black citizens of the present day, this major reference project resurrects the lives of thousands of African Americans. The individuals in these biographical entries are slaves and abolitionists; writers; politicians and business people; musicians and dancers; artists and athletes; victims of injustice and lawyers, journalists, and the civil rights leaders who gave them all a voice. Through the African American National Biography, these important lives and contributions have been restored, recorded, and made accessible to all students, teachers, scholars, and anyone interested in our nation's history. Now available, order what the Washington Post has called a “massive new biographical treasure chest” today!
